

EDLER & STIEGLER Consulting GmbH has been providing management and business process consulting services since 2008. We are specialists for business & IT consulting as well as interim management and support you in the conception, management and implementation of complex IT and organizational projects. As an owner-managed company based in Pullach near Munich, we count national and international companies among our customers, primarily from the automotive, consumer goods, healthcare, pharmaceutical and telecommunications industries.

We are looking for a permanent employment as a

TEST MANAGER (M/F/D)

Join our team, take responsibility for coordinating testing activities in our customers' projects and drive the efficient implementation of customized solutions.

Your focus is on the development of concepts for systematic testing, test planning and organisation. You are committed to the continuous improvement of processes and standards in your customer projects. You will also contribute your knowledge to the introduction of new test methods and the development of new test tools. The control of test teams and test execution in all test phases, the creation of management presentations and reports completes your area of responsibility.

Your profile matches our expectations if you have the following:

- A completed degree, preferably in business, information technology, technology or a comparable qualification
- Long-term experience in test management (agile and/ or waterfall)
- Very good knowledge of Jira, Xray, Confluence, HP ALM
- Basic knowledge of test automation and the tools commonly available on the market
- ISTQB certification desirable
- A pronounced customer orientation, independent working methods and a high demand towards the quality of your work.
- Analytical and solution-oriented ability to think, curiosity and a high willingness to learn
- Leadership competence, communicative and social competence, business fluent German and good knowledge of English

Invest your passion by implementing our clients' projects, use your freedom and realize your own ideas. After a goal-oriented induction, you can expect excellent development opportunities and career prospects. We invest in your further training and qualification. We reward your above-average commitment with an attractive salary and various additional benefits.

ARE YOU INTERESTED?

We're looking forward to your complete application including your earliest possible starting date and salary expectations:

jobs@edlerstieglер.com

EDLER & STIEGLER Consulting GmbH
Kreuzeckstr. 23b
82049 Pullach

Further information on EDLER & STIEGLER can be found at www.edlerstieglер.com.